

Waitress

Communion Comment

000430

Jesus' blood continually cleansing those who walk in the light; 1 John 1:7

I think of a waitress who has to continually clean up after her customers

There are two different customers

One who is sloppy and doesn't care:

he spits on the floor,
throws food,
and scatters food everywhere;
he is rude, insulting, and hateful

He is a great annoyance and burden to the waitress .

The other is just clumsy:

he knocks over his drink again and again,
drips ketchup as he eats,
but she knows that he has a good heart;
she remembers feeding her small children.

The waitress loves him because they have a good relationship.

She may someday refuse the first customer's business; but never the second's.

Which category do we fall in?

© Copyright 2000, Heard Lowry